DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: original application filed 10/5/2004. IDS filed 12/7/2004, and 4/27/2006.
2. Claims 1-40 pending. Claims 1, 12, 21, 32 are independent.

Specification

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following: Applicant's Specification, Abstract, and Claims utilize a particular font and letter spacing which is difficult for the examiner to analyze. For example, the letters "c" and "l" in the word "claim" (i.e. see claim 2: "The method of claim 1...") are so close together that it strongly resembles the letter "d". Similar problems exist throughout said disclosure specification, abstract, and claims. Applicant is required to submit a new disclosure using an appropriate font and letter spacing so as to prevent future problems with analysis and scanning. Applicant is advised against the addition of new matter. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-2, 12-13, 21-22, and 32-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nielsen (hereinafter Nielsen), U.S. PG Pub No. US 2004/0205567, filed 1/22/2002.

In regard to independent claims 1, 12, 21, 32, Nielsen discloses a method of parsing a data file (an XML markup language file) typically containing a plurality of data elements (tags, etc.) (Nielsen Abstract).

Nielsen discloses receiving an XML test file for analysis inasmuch as files of said type are typically assigned file identifiers (i.e. a filename) so as to be identified by Nielsen's invention (Nielsen Abstract, paragraph [0031]).

Nielsen discloses parsing an XML file into a DOM tree, and each attribute or node in said tree is analyzed accordingly, each said node reasonable interpreted as data elements within a plurality of data elements (nodes) (Nielsen paragraphs [0058], [0061], [0062]).

Nielsen discloses determining a replacement for an element node, said replacement utilizing XPath for replacing a portion of the document (i.e. a portion identifier) (Nielsen paragraphs [0052], [0062]).

Nielsen discloses the above analysis and replacement methods conducted during runtime (using an application) (Nielsen Abstract), therefore data is provided accordingly.

In regard to dependent claims 2, 13, 22, 33, Nielsen discloses XPath (Nielsen paragraph [0052]).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2176

7. Claims 3-9, 14-20, 23-29, 34-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nielsen as applied to claims 1, 12, 21, 32 above, and further in view of Cseri et al. (hereinafter Cseri), U.S. PG Pub. No. US 2003/0046317 filed 4/19/2001.

In regard to dependent claim 3-5, 14-16, 23-25, 34-36, Nielsen does not specifically teach APIs, procedure calls, and event based parsers. However, Cseri teaches a method of incorporating binary formatting into XML utilizing parsing of an XML file into a DOM tree, along with XPath (Cseri Abstract, paragraph [0028]). Cseri teaches SAX, which is a simple API for XML, which is event based and typically comprising one or more procedure calls (Cseri paragraph [0028]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to apply Cseri to Nielsen, providing Nielsen the benefit of decreasing parsing time utilizing at least in part APIs, SAX, etc.

In regard to dependent claims 6-9, 17-19, 26-29, 37-40, said claims incorporate substantially similar subject matter as claimed in claims 1, 3, 12, 14, 21, 23, 32, 34, and in further view of the following, is rejected along the same rationale.

Nielsen does not specifically teach object oriented parsing. However, Cseri teaches object oriented programming (Cseri paragraph [0157]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to apply Cseri to Nielsen, providing Nielsen the benefit of object oriented programming for multiple instantiation etc.

Nielsen teaches a find request - an abbreviated version, and a get request - a non-abbreviated version of an object (Nielsen paragraph [0045]).

8. Claims 10-11, 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nielsen and Cseri as applied to claims 3, 14, 23, 34 above, and further in view of Imamura et al. (hereinafter Imamura), U.S. PG Pub. No. US 2004/0261019 filed 4/1/2004.

In regard to dependent claims 10-11, 30-31, Nielsen does not specifically teach push parsing. However, Imamura teaches parsing in association with XPath and pushing (Imamura paragraph [0160]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to apply Imamura to Nielsen, providing Nielsen the benefit of pushing for more efficient parsing.
